 We understand Mr. E. L. Smith will erect a fine building on the corner of Third and Oak streets for a bank.
 The water works at the Glacier hotel are completed, and have force enough to throw a stream over the building.

 Messrs. Bayard, Joles, Clarke and Haight, of The Dalles, are camped on the west fork near Winans' place. They are having whole lots of sport.
 Will Graham and a lot of other lively Dalles gentlemen are gladdening the bosky glades of the west fork with their joyful presence.
 Mr. H. S. Levis and wife, of Portland, came up Monday and will remain a couple of weeks. They are visiting Mr. Levis' sister, Mrs. Troy Shelley.
 Messrs. C. H. Nichols, Rod Holloway and Walter Clarke of La Crosse, Wisconsin will arrive here in a week or two to examine into our timber resources.
 A young daughter of Mr. Edward Jourdan of the Cascade Locks died very suddenly last Saturday. The body was brought here on the train Monday for burial.
 Mr. Rand is having the building a present occupied by Mr. Bone, over hauled and put in shape to receive a stock of hardware which is expected to arrive next week.

Messrs. Jos. Wilson, Dr. C. F. Newcombe, A. J. Rand, J. H. Middleton, H. N. Jones and W. J. Baker started for Lost lake last Sunday on a fishing and hunting expedition.

Every train brings in tourists and both Olinger & Bone and Rand & Hamilton have all the work their teams can do. From the way travel is increasing both firms will have to increase their stock.

Mr. J. H. McCoy has his new barn nearly completed and says he will "paint her red" and the battens white. It is a neat building and will add considerably to the value of his property.

It need not necessarily follow that there is going to be a wedding because a certain young gentleman bought a box of cigars and had them put away until Sunday, but some people think it will happen just the same.

Captain J. H. Dukas and W. B. Perry went to The Dalles with a team a few days since "looking for hogs." If they didn't find any to suit it, was because they were too big for this market, for they certainly went to the right place.

Trout lake is getting to be quite a famous resort for tourists. There are a number of camping parties there now fishing and hunting. The ice caves with which that whole section abounds are also attracting considerable attention.

The photograph gallery opposite Middleton's store will be opened next Monday. Mr. G. Boney the proprietor has had years of experience and is prepared to take photographs in all sizes and styles. He guarantees good work.

The Shoemaker Bros. of Pendleton have bought a farm near town and one of them came down Sunday to stay. The other is coming overland with their teams and we understand several other Pendleton people will soon follow them to locate here.

The game law for birds expired on the 15th, since which time the grouse have caught it on all sides. The law should not go into effect for a month later than it does as while a few of the flocks are well grown, the greater number are too small to kill.

The Mt. Hood road is now completed. The Chinamen came down last Sunday, and all the other employes except carpenters came in Tuesday. It will take the latter ten days or two weeks to put the finishing touches on the hotel, but it is announced that it will be opened on August 1st.

County Assessor Gourlay is getting the financial standing of Hood River people, and will be through with his work in this section in a few days. He tells us that the narrow strip along the railroad, Mosier, Wyoth and the Cascade locks is all he has to assess outside of The Dalles.

Mr. F. R. Absten has left in our office a fine seedling apple grown on his ranch. It is of beautiful color, bright red, large and of delicious flavor. It resembles the Baldwin somewhat and is called by him "Absten's Favorite." It is the most showy apple we know of and its remarkably early ripening qualities ought to make it a valuable variety.

C. R. Bone has some of the best town property for sale that has yet been placed on the market. It is going fast, six lots being sold Wednesday, and two Thursday, and parties desiring choice lots will do well to call early. Farmers desiring to sell a portion or all of their property will find an energetic agent in Mr. Bone.

The state road between here and the planing mill has several bad places in it that should be fixed up at once. One is where the water crosses the road near Dr. Adams', another where the road crosses the railroad track, at the mill, and the road below that is full of rocks rolled down from the railroad embankment. The bridge over the flume also needs fixing, and the attention of the road supervisor is respectfully called thereto.

The Lee Summit (Missouri) Journal says: "The HOOD RIVER GLACIER from Oregon calls on the Journal for an X, which request is cheerfully acceded to. Hood River is the town where George Prather, an old Jackson county boy, lives, and, by the way, we see that Clarkson has chopped off George's official head, and given the title of P. M. to some one else." The Journal is mistaken, Mr. Prather resigned like a little man, and he had to wait three months to get his resignation accepted.

Mr. Thomas McKay, in felling a tree while working for the Mt. Hood Stage company, cut out an old-fashioned copper cent. The coin was buried in the wood a depth of over six inches, and the grain of the wood looked as if a chisel or some other instrument had been driven into the tree and the coin then forced into the opening. The wood had grown solid around it, and the figures 1873 cut in the tree indicate the time the coin was placed there. Some old mountain-climber can now come to the front and make his newspaper a good item by telling who put the coin there.

Judge O. M. Scott, E. L. Scott, Hon. E. O. McCoy and Chester Soule, of Grants, were out at Trout lake last week, and at their invitation Dr. E. H. Van Patten, of Dayton, and C. R. Bone went out to visit them. They hired a team on the other side of the river and drove out last Tuesday night a week ago leaving White Salmon at 9 o'clock in the evening. They had a very pleasant time, caught plenty of fish, bringing in eighty pounds of them on ice which they procured from the ice caves, and arriving home Saturday night. They are enthusiastic in their praises of the place and speak in glowing terms of their treatment by Mr. and Mrs. Stohler who have a dairy ranch near the lake.
